Use and storage of your personal information

The A1 Group will use personal information provided by you or gathered by the A1 Group to process and respond to requests, orders, enquiries and complaints received from you and to provide services subsequently requested by you. This subsequent processing may include processing to manage and update you on your account and to send you updates about special offers, new services, special promotions and noteworthy news and events that the A1 Group believes will be of interest to you.

Sharing of your personal information

The A1 Group may share your personal information with third parties in the following ways:

The A1 Group sometimes use agents and service providers to process personal information on its behalf. For example, the A1 Group may use third parties to contact you about its products and services, send postal mail and to maintain its IT systems. Where the A1 Group uses agents and service providers to process your personal information, the A1 Group will ensure that it has adequate security measures in place to safeguard your personal information.

The A1 Group will also release your personal information when required to do so for legal or regulatory purposes or as part of legal proceedings.

Use of Cookies

A cookie is a piece of information that is held on the hard drive of your computer that records how you have used a website. Cookies allow website operators to accumulate useful information, such as whether the computer (and sometimes its user) has visited the site before. This is done on a repeat visit by checking to see, and finding, the cookie left there on the last visit.

The A1 Group may use cookies to monitor how people use our website in order to help the A1 Group to provide you with a better service. Cookies make it easier for you to log on and use the website during future visits. They also allow the A1 Group to personalise the content of the website for you.

If you do not want cookies downloaded onto your machine, you can restrict or disable them by adjusting the settings on your browser. However, you may not be able to use some of the features on our website without cookies.

Access to your personal information

You have the right to request a copy of the personal information that the A1 Group holds about you and to have any inaccuracies corrected. The A1 Group will ask for confirmation of identity before it discloses any personal information and may charge a £10 administration fee to process the request. Please address requests to the Finance Director.

Revision

The Company will make all employees aware of this Company Policy.
